

Stoke on Trent College Website Accessibility Statement

This accessibility statement applies to the entire Stoke on Trent College website.

Accessibility on This Website

This website is run by Stoke on Trent College.

We want as many people as possible to be able to use this website. For example, that means you should be able to:

- Change colours, contrast levels, and fonts using browser or device settings.
- Zoom in up to 400% without the text spilling off the screen.
- Navigate most of the website using a keyboard or speech recognition software.
- Listen to most of the website using a screen reader (including the most recent versions of JAWS, NVDA, and VoiceOver).

We've also made the website text as simple as possible to understand. AbilityNet has advice on making your device easier to use if you have a disability.

Resources have been dedicated to enhancing the website's user-friendliness and accessibility, driven by the aligned mission with Recite Me that every individual deserves to experience and engage with digital content, equally.

How Accessible This Website Is

We know that some parts of this website are not fully accessible. A full list of compliance errors is available here.

Feedback and Contact Information

If you find any problems not listed on the compliance errors list or think we're not meeting accessibility requirements, please contact us:

- Email: marketing@stokecoll.ac.uk
- Call: 01782 208208

We'll consider your request and get back to you in 10 days.

If you cannot view the map on our 'contact us' page, call or email us for directions

Enforcement Procedure The Equality and Human Rights Commission (EHRC) is responsible for enforcing the Public Sector Bodies (Websites and Mobile Applications) (No. 2) Accessibility Regulations 2018 (the 'accessibility regulations'). If you're not happy with how we respond to your complaint, contact the Equality Advisory and Support Service (EASS).

Technical Information About This Website's Accessibility

Stoke on Trent College is committed to making its website accessible, in accordance with the Public Sector Bodies (Websites and Mobile Applications) (No. 2) Accessibility Regulations 2018.

This website is partially compliant with the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines version 2.1 AA standard due to the non-compliances and those exemptions listed below.

Non-accessible Content

Content that's not within the scope of the accessibility regulations

- PDFs and other documents published before 23 September 2018 are not essential to providing our services and are not required to be accessible.
- Live video streams do not have captions.

What we're doing to improve accessibility

Our accessibility journey is continuing.

- We regularly review our website and its content to identify and fix known issues. We can do this by running a check of our website with the Recite Me Accessibility Checker.
- We are working with a web development agency who is helping us to remediate issues on a monthly basis.

Third-party content and functionality

We may make use of third-party resources that embed content on our website. Wherever possible we will ensure these are conformant.

Preparation of This Accessibility Statement

This statement was prepared on 3rd September 2024. It was last reviewed on 3rd September 2024.

This website was last tested on 20th August 2023 against the WCAG 2.1 AA standard. The test was carried out by Sitemorse. The most viewed pages were tested using automated testing tools by our website team.